

BRIGHT LIGHTS by Cindy Goodman

Veronica Jeong and Alphabet Pendants — My Second Language

An opening reception for the latest show at Deep Cove's Seymour Art Gallery was held Feb. 10. Chameleon features works made from polymer clay, a modeling plastisol that hardens when heated, and celebrates it as a medium of expression. At the opening event, gallery goers were treated to artist demonstrations. Chameleon, which features works by Carolyn Joy Good, Rachel Goulet, Tina Holden, Gera Scott Chandler, Wanda Shum, Joan Taylor and members of the Vancouver and Vancouver Island Polymer Clay Guilds, will remain on display until March 2. Info: seymourartgallery.com.

Chameleon at the Seymour Art Gallery

Jon Mercer Redlich with Wolf Leaf

Olga Osnach with Red Bird Art Doll

Gera Scott Chandler and Liddo Vessel-Secretive Woman

Sue Rankin and Pene Hollingsworth

Ellen Kocher and her work ReAwants

Volunteers Robin Reid and Sandy Koven

Featured art demonstrator Joan Taylor